

A woman with long brown hair is performing an aerial act in a studio. She is suspended by a black strap from above, holding onto it with her right hand. Her left arm is extended horizontally to the right. She is wearing a grey tank top over a red sports bra and black pants. The background is a white wall with a grid of square ventilation holes. The lighting is bright and even.

SOMEWHERE TO BELONG

FLYING INTO THE

DEPTHS OF MY MIND

SCARABEUS AERIAL THEATRE

FLYING INTO THE DEPTHS OF MY MIND

SCARABEUS
AERIAL
THEATRE

FREE COURSE – for young people aged 13-25 years old

Ever wanted to fly? You can – with Scarabeus Aerial Theatre's summer circus workshops, where you'll fly using stretchy fabric cocoons, and perform at height suspended on climbing harnesses.

Together we will use aerial movement and theatre skills to explore what it means to grow up: changes to the body and mind, feeling lonely, wanting to belong, being full of energy and wanting to take risks.

8-12 August, 11am-4pm
(please bring a packed lunch)

LOCATION: Caxton House
Community Centre, 129 St John's
Way, London N19 3RQ

TUBE: Archway (Northern Line)
BUS: 41 or 210 to Mulkern Road

BOOKINGS: Call 020 3620 2325
or email clare@scarabeus.co.uk

Part of Islington Summeriversity 2016
www.izzy-info.com
Photography by Mark Morreau

